to do so under the ruling of the court. The full text of the grand jury report is as follows:

Richmond, Va., July 26, 1905. To the Honorable Samuel B. Witt, Judge of the Hustings Court of the City of Richmond:
The charge delivered by you to the grand jury empaneled for the duty of investigating the recent primary election was so comprehensive and explicit that the jurors have deemed it proper to take the widest latitude in the investigation. They find that more stringest measures should be employed to safeguard the ballot. The manner of appointing officers of the election precincts is not guarded sufficiently by the Electoral Board, who, after all, are the real guarded sufficiently by the Electoral Board, who, after all, are the real guarded sufficiently by the Electoral Board, who, after all, are the real guarded sufficiently by the Electoral Board, who, after all, are the real guarded sufficiently only the properties officers. Our investigation shows that the appointments are made on the recommendation of any citizen, and that the Board is governed thereby. We are of opinion that the Board should be governed by the recommendations of the City Central Committee, who are elected by the people to see that the cleations are fairly and lonestly conducted, and should be remodeled.

We also find upon the sworn textimony of one hundred and seventy-two voters of the Third Monroe Precinct, out of two hundred and one who voted at that only thirteen refused to textify, two failed to remomber how they voted for City Sergeant, three failed to remember how they voted of collers showed a willing desire to assist the grand jury in every way nossible.

Our verified count shows that for the officer of City Sergeant, that collers showed a willing desire slat the grand jury in every way possible.

Our verified count shows that for the office of City Sergaant, H. C.
Epps received sixty votes, T. W. Me-Caw received sixty votes, T. W. Me-Caw received sixty votes, T. W. Me-Caw received twenty-nor, and J. C.
Smith received seventy-four, T. The certified returns from the judges who served in the election showed that H. C. Epps received forty-four, T. W. Mc-Caw received cleaved, and J. C. Smith received one hundred and forty-two. For the office of Commonwealth's Attorney, our count shows Anderson received righteen votes, Cary twenty-two, Folkes fifty-three, Howard two, James nheeten, Wallace elght, George E Wise eleven, and George D. Wise twenty-one. The certified returns of the judges of election of that precinct showed that Anderson received four-teen votes, Cary fifteen, Folkes one hundred and eleven, Howard six, James eleven, Wallace ten, George E. Wise thriteen, and George D, Wise twelye.

E. Wise thirteen, and George D, Wise twelve.

We find, so far as we have been able to discover, that the election was fairly conducted with the excention of the cases which we report to the honorable court with suitable Indictments. All those indicted walked up like men in the court and gave their bonds, save Culberson, who will perhaps never be seen in Richmond again.

Those who are interested in clean pollities and fair methods in primaries are expressing the belief that the findings of the grand jury will have a beathful effect upon the State centest, which will come off on August 22d, and they think if any wrong was done in the recent if any wrong was done in the recent municipal fight there will be no repetition next month.

The grand lury is composed of good men, and from the moment they were nen, and from the moment they were summoned they have inspired the fullest measure of public confidence. While it is not absolutely known how the jury stood on the question of bring-ing in true bills, it is understood that the members were very nearly unanimou on the subject and that there was n serious alsagreement among them. The followed to the letter the injunction his honor, Judge Witt, when he declared in his instructions that the safety of free government rested finally upon th purity of the ballot.

This sentiment has been which com-mended and seems to be thoroughly en-dorsed by the Jury as well as the people

Yesterday's Session.

The session of the grand jury yesterday was not prolonged. As a matter of fact the five indicements brought in were drawn as early as Monday, and when the members took their seats early in the morning they knew what would be their findings.

The entire time yesterday was consumed in winding up some odds and ends. When the members filed into the court room to make their final report the deepest public interest was manifested. In connection with the investigation. The trial of the cases in the Hustings Court in September will likely attract large crowds, as the public seems deeply interested in the outcome.

"The Crop Estimating Board of the Department of Agriculture has considered the report issued by the Bureau of Statistics on June 2d, relative to the acreage planted, in cotton in the Southern States in 1905 as compared with thiat planted in 1904, and has concluded:

"Third, the board finds, upon careful consideration of the reports of all classes of correspondence and agents, that the acreage planted in cotton this year, fieluding the entire season, should have been estimated at $5.1 per cent, of that planted last year, equivalent to a reduction in planted acreage as compared with last pear of 14.9 per cent, (instead of 11.4 per cent.) or 4,731,000 acres—the estimate of the total acreage planted this year being 26,999,000 acres.

"The shattering of idols, popular idols, has of late become a thing of almost daily occurrence. It is a sad thing to contemplate, but it is an inevitable condition. The late James G. "Is the same condition true of governments as it is of corporations?"

"Quite the same. Our government, or any other, will permit a wrong to be done, something that will stagger humanity, and it will pass in the events of the day as a good pleee of government diplomacy. Quite likely no one connected with the affairs of the government that permitted the wrong would ever so degrade himself, as to commit the same wrong personally."

"Now in this insurance scandal and the various other unfortunate business wrongs that baye heen exposed lately, it is very much to be doubted if any one particular man would do of his swn accord what he did as a director or a stockholder. A great many very honorable and reputable geniemen are more or less implicated in these scandals. When the scandals are brought to light and exposed these honorable men justify themselves by saying that they only had a very small part in it. Their excuse is that perhaps they owned one share in a thousand, and that while the directorate of the thousand shares committed a financial crime, their one little interest was so small that it did not count."

Payne's remedies are creating a sensation in Richmond never possible with other remedies. The positive and quick reliefs and cures accomplishind by them are the talk of the city. Such astonishing evidence as the above among many other cases already noted in these columns are bringing the fact that he has a wonderful series of remedies to the notice of every one.

His free demonstrations last night were made very interesting by the instant restoration to Mr. John H. "I think the idea and the spirit of the movement is all right, but how far it can be carried out in a practical way is a question. Suppose, for instance, that Mrs. A. gives a reception and invites Mrs. A. gives a reception and invites Mrs. B. Among the other guests at the reception is Mrs. C, and Mrs. C is a divorcee. Now Mrs. B could hardly know that she would meet Mrs. C there, and It would be fulled impossible for her to draw the line against divorcee under those creumstances. Of course, a woman can refuse to uccept an invitation from a divorcee and can refrain from asking a divorcee and can refrain from a sking a divorcee to her house. All that is simple enough. But when it comes to so conducting herself in social affairs so as to keep entirely out of touch with a divorcee, the situation becomes almost impracticable. Undoubtedly the women who have started this movement are very much in carnest and have the good of society at heart. It is only a question of the ability of human nature to differentiate and draw a fine enough line."

BALTIMORE, MD., July 26.-On Sunday last, while Joseph Cohen, wife and day last, while Joseph Cohen, wife and children were plenicking on the banks of Stony Creek, in Anne Arundel county, near this city, his two little daughters, Lena and Sophia, aged five and seven years, wandered into the woods and were lost. Since that time a search day and night has been kept up to find the little ones, the whole surrounding cambry being explored in vain and Stony Criek vainly dragged for the hodies. It is estimated that 20 people each day have engaged in the hunt for the lost girls, and two negro men have been under arrest since Monday, suspected of knowing something of the disappearance. Today the girls were found sitting on the bank of a stream alive and well, and were at once restored to their frantic father and mother. The children were ravenously hungry, having had nothing to eat since Sunday except wild strawravenously hungry, having had nothing to eat since Sunday except wild straw-borries.
